Newton Resident Is Taken as the Engine of Passenger Train Is Derailed

Investigation of the derailling of the locomotive of a passenger train at Newton Highlands Station on the Boston & Albany line Tuesday night led to the arrest today at his home of John M. Walsh, 33, of Walnut st., Newton Highlands. Walsh is a discharged employee of the railroad.

The charge against him is obstructing passage of an engine and he will be arraigned tomorrow in Newton district court.

The train, with two loaded passenger cars, was leaving the Newton Highlands station for Elliot station on the Highlands loop when from the front trucks the locomotive split a switch. Nobody was hurt.

It was discovered that a stone had been wedged in the switch so that it was held open.

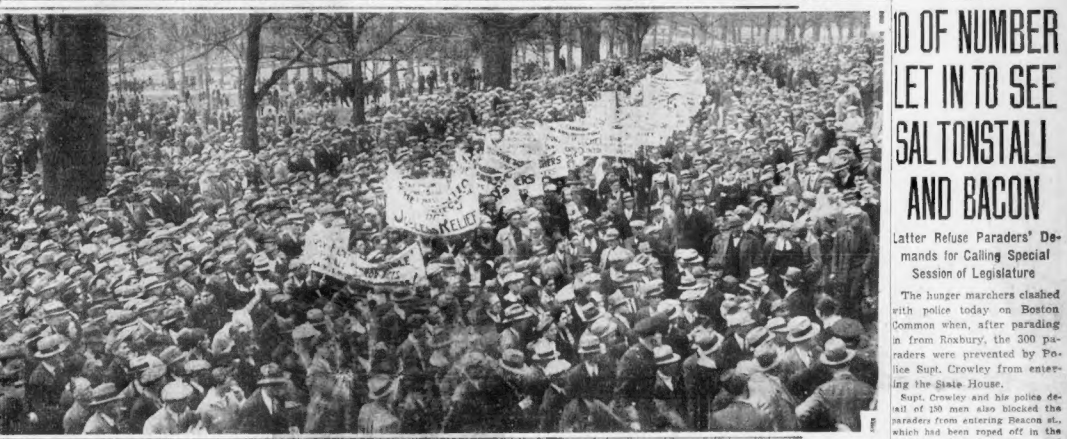

According to Capt. James Rafferty of the railroad police, Walsh had been seen in the vicinity. Walsh denied the charge, but a witness said he had been discharged some time ago "for cause."

Latter Refuse Paraders' Demands for Calling Special Session of Legislature

The hunger marchers clashed with police today on Boston Common when, after parading in from Roxbury, the 300 paraders were prevented by Police Supt. Crowley from entering the State House.

Supt. Crowley and his police detail of 150 men also blocked the paraders from entering Beacon st., which had been roped off in the vicinity of the State House and cleared of automobiles and pedestrians.

Supt. Crowley argued with Albert Daniels, the Communist leader, who refused the hunger marchers' request that a joint session of the Legislature be called to consider their demands.

The clash between the police and the marchers came when the marchers, swinging across Beacon common and singing the "Internationale," started to mount the granite steps at the Shaw Memorial, leading from the Commonwealth to Beacon st.

At the foot of the steps leading from the Commonwealth to Beacon st. they were met by Supt. Crowley and Gen. Alfred H. Fouts, head of the state police, and a crowd of 200 spectators looked on.

They told Daniels the Governor would not be there until 2 o'clock but that President Bacon of the Senate and Speaker Saltinshall of the House would meet 10 delegates of the hunger marchers at 12 o'clock.

Daniels said: "We want to march on to the State House grounds." "Your parade permit ends here and this is as far as you go," he said.

Daniels: "I shall have to insist in behalf of my followers that we march on to the State House grounds." "And I insist that you go no farther. You can have 10 of your number in the State House at 12 o'clock, not before. You are going to wait right here," he said.

Crowley: "Who are you?" Supt. Crowley: "Yes."

ONLY 10 DELEGATES Daniels: "Well, I'm afraid that we will have to insist that we continue our march to the State House grounds." Crowley: "I am afraid you will have to insist on nothing of the kind."

Brookline Man 'Taken' for $560, Saves $8500

Harry R. Palmer, wealthy business man of Chauncy st., Boston, and Beacon st., Brookline, was "taken" for $560 and almost for $8500 more, police revealed today, in getting warrants for arrest of two New York men.

Police said Palmer was called on the telephone from New York by Louis Barron and Robert Haynes, who said they had met his wife at the Jamaica race track and told her of a good proposition whereupon she advised them to get in touch with her husband.

Palmer, police said, wired them $60 and expenses and they came to Boston and showed him certified checks for $8500 on the Irving Bank & Trust Co. of New York. They asked him to cash the checks and said $500 of his own as his investment.

Palmer gave them the $500, but when he took the checks to a Boston bank he was informed that the checks were not good.

Palmer told the police and Special Officers Bohmich and Curran waited in an anteroom of his office, while he sent for the two men, who were staying at the Parker House.

But Palmer did not tap the police the signal they were waiting. When he did call them the men were gone and Palmer said they had convinced him they were honest.

ELY WILL NOT TALK OF ATTACK

The clouds of political battle hung dormant over the State House today.

Governor Ely returned from his Southern trip but failed to even appear for an opening on the recent upheaval of Lieutenant-Governor William S. Youngman.

The latter's message to the Legislature on the Boston-Worcester trolley franchise was expected to draw caustic comment from the Governor, but didn't.

"I haven't read his works yet," was the only reference to Youngman's "quibbling" that Ely would make.

Enclosed in his own office, Youngman made no more moves, but seemed in a receptive mood on any information from his Democratic chief's office.

The day Youngman turned his verbal guns on State Treasurer Charles E. Hurley, who said last night in a radio talk that Youngman's legislative message was really a reflection against former Governor Allen and members of Youngman's council.

COURT TAXITY REAL CAUSE OF CRIME

Episcopal Cleric Says Navy Officer Should Never Have Gone to Trial

By REV. F. N. CULLEN
Pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal Cathedral, Honolulu

(As Told to Universal Service)
Honolulu, Hawaii, May 2.—I do not agree with the verdict of manslaughter in the trial of Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and two navy enlisted men.

Each and every one of these unfortunate defendants should have been acquitted, and acquitted speedily.

TRIAL A MISTAKE
In fact, they should never have been, in my opinion, brought to trial.

What's all this quibbling about "law and order must be upheld"? Where was the law 20 years ago when the Honolulu, Hawaii, May 2.—I do not agree with the verdict of manslaughter in the trial of Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and two navy enlisted men.

LAW TO BLAME
Had I been in Lieut. Massie's place I probably would have done the same thing as he.

What I am alluding to is the fact that the Honolulu, Hawaii, May 2.—I do not agree with the verdict of manslaughter in the trial of Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and two navy enlisted men.

The rate was made 10 cents on messages between 50 cents and 10 cents on messages between 10 cents and 20 cents on messages of more than 20 cents.

The House provided rates of 5 cents on messages between 20 and 50 cents and 10 cents on all messages over 50 cents.

ALL LEASED WIRES TAKEN
The Senate committee also took on leased wires from 10 per cent to 5 per cent on messages for newspapers and radio broadcasting were removed.

The committee was almost unanimously in favor of the measure, which was passed by the House for newspapers, Senator Bingham (R., C.)

The exact language of the new telephone and telegraph provision was available in the committee continued in work in the House.

Lindbergh's Flight Poem Set to Music, to Be Sung on Air

Hollywood, Cal., May 2 (AP)—Hein Keller's poem, "The Valtair," dedicated to Col. Charles Lindbergh and written by Mary Madison, composer and newspaperman, visiting here from New York. The same lines inspired a sculptor to model a plaque, now in the Lindbergh museum at St. Louis.

"The Valtair," Madison said, will be sung by radio from New York, May 12, fifth anniversary of the Lindbergh flight.

FIGHTS FOR BOY MOTHERLESS IN 3 KILLINGS

Father of Young Bartels Seeks Court Action After the Tragedy in Quincy

While police were trying to clear up puzzling details of the double murder and suicide which shocked the Atlantic section of Quincy yesterday, Wellington Bartels of Harrison ave., Boston, today launched a move to gain custody of his son, Wellington, 8, who discovered the tragedy.

STEPDAUGHTER BEATEN

The father of the boy, having learned he was sought for questioning, went to Quincy police and explained that he was divorced in 1927 and had not seen his wife since. He said he reached home at 4 p. m. Saturday, and did not leave the house that evening nor all day Sunday.

Bartels said he would go immediately to get custody of his boy. Other sons, Ernest, 18, and Ralph, 17, of whom he had custody, are at Dean Academy, he told the police. Neighbors told police that Dutton, although usually a kindly man, did not like his stepdaughter and frequently quarreled with her. He was said to have beaten her Saturday and she told a neighbor she was afraid to go back to the house.

SHELLS MISSING

Police could not find any exploded shells around the garage, although footprints and a trail of blood showed that Mrs. Bartels was shot in the rear of the garage and dragged herself to the kitchen of the house.

Moreover, one bullet had passed through a garage window, but no trace of it could be seen inside the garage.

In the 25-caliber revolver which was found beside Dutton in a front room of the house, there was only one exploded shell. An unfired cartridge of 25-caliber was found on the corner sidewalk in front of the house.

Mrs. Dutton's body was found in her bedroom on the second floor. She was 62, her husband was 58 and her daughter 38.

Reiche's on Flight Havana to Newark

Havana, May 2 (AP)—Luis Reiche, of Arlington, N. J., took off for Miami today and plans to continue on to Newark, N. J., without trying for a record.

Reiche flew nonstop from Montreal to Havana last week in nine hours and three minutes in a plane which he was testing for a transatlantic flight.

The strike affects not only the 30,000 men who struck today but also the future of 35,000 other members of the council at present unemployed.

Among major building operations affected were Rockefeller center, the Port of New York Authority building, and many other large construction jobs where work was at a standstill.

Three large building unions were still at work despite the strike, the electricians, structural iron workers and elevator construction workers, which have separate agreements.

Conferences were scheduled for today and both sides expressed a new way out to be back at work by the middle of the week.

VANITIES GIRL STANDS TIPTOE TO REACH CHIN

Mickey Devine Takes Issue With Way Italian Fought Grisselle in Paris Bout

Paris, May 2 (INS)—A right upreper to the chin of Primo Carnera, delivered by a little American dancer, who stood on her tiptoes to swing at the boxer's jaw, precipitated something in the nature of a free-for-all fight at the fashionable Club Lido on the Champs Elysees early today.

FIST ENDS ARGUMENT

The fracas had its inception in an argument between Mickey Devine and the Italian pugilist. She stood up to her full five feet two, took a deep breath and swung at Carnera's chin.

"I don't like the way you fought Grisselle—I wasn't clean," said Devine.

It connected. The smacking fist didn't exactly go down for Devine, but a large, sharply-curved rap on the forehead of Mickey's sharply-fingered took a place out of Carnera's jaw and the blood flowed liberally.

A BATTLE ROYAL

Carnera, who is now a dancer himself under the name of Garry Leon, stepped in and planted the combative Mickey and Beryl Wallace, another Carnera dancer, departed and there the affair should have ended.

But when Leon left the club with a party of friends, including a number of film people, he encountered half a dozen strong supporters of Grisselle who apparently felt the argument began inside should have a more emphatic conclusion.

The Grisselle-fans jumped on Leon and his friends; and for a few moments there was a battle royal with one of the combatants knocked insensible.

HOOPS MY DEAR, CUPID CRY

MISS KAISER MISS MARCY Miss Elizabeth Kaiser of Scranton, Pa., president of the senior class at Wellesley, presenting the traditional bride's bouquet to Miss Mildred Macy of Newton Upper Falls, winner of the annual hoop rolling contest at the college today. The tradition is that the winner will be the first one in the class to wed. Miss Macy is not even engaged yet.

Whoops! How the Wellesley seniors picked up their skirts and ran today. Or should it be "Hoops! How they ran."

For today was May Day at the college, with the senior hoop-rolling contest the main event.

More than 300 saw the 100-yard course down Tower Court hill to the chapel—all vying for that first place that designates her the next bride.

The honor went to Mildred Macy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Macy of 121 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls. Hoop hoop, ho!

With skirts henna turned up to the knee, to allow all the freedom possible, the hoop-equipped girls presented a colorful sight at the early morning festivity.

After Elizabeth Kaiser, senior president, presented the bridal bouquet to Miss Macy, the junior, sophomores and freshmen filed through the double line of seniors to chapel where Miss Ellen Pendleton, college president, led the service.

The next event was the colorful march of the sophomores to the peak of Tower Hill, their salutes to the senior class on the steps of the chapel and the race for the senior hoops they must have two years for their contest in 1934.

The day had another significance but not especially to the college girls.

For his 25th consecutive year, G. Frank Badway, veteran Boston Evening American photographer, recorded the events in his trusty camera.

"But" can remember the time when shy Wellesley girls refused to be photographed at play. Everyone in town was sworn in as a constable to thwart picture taking.

Crying Babies No Puzzle to Sisters at St. Mary's Infant Home in Dorchester

GARNER WIN IN CALIFORNIA PARTY HOPE

By LOUIS REIBOLD
New York, May 2 (UPI)—Ninety per cent of Democrats generally hope that neither Roosevelt nor Smith will win the Democratic presidential primary in California on Tuesday.

Victory for either would further intensify an already bitter factional dispute. Among the logical consequences would be a disastrous split in New York. The inevitable result would undoubtedly dissipate any chance that the Democratic party may now have of winning the 45 electoral votes of the Empire state.

HOPES ON GARNER
Wherefore, every Democrat more interested in the coming election than in the selfish ambition of any candidate hopes Speaker John N. Garner will win the 44 delegates of the Golden Gate state.

Leaders of this initial view the Garner candidacy as offering the only solution of a problem involving complete demoralization of the party and certain disaster in the end.

Unusual importance is attributed to the Garner candidacy for many impressive reasons. The plain spoken and efficient leader of western Texas is not embroiled in factional feud. His official record and personal character command admiration and respect.

He is free of the taint of machine politics such as handicaps Smith. His views on public questions are clear-cut, convincing and expressed with courage completely lacking in the vacillating of Roosevelt.

VOZE HERE SIGNIFICANT
Few Democratic leaders of the East really think Smith has a chance to win the nomination. They now believe Roosevelt will not win it.

The Massachusetts and Pennsylvania victories of Smith actually pointed the way to the rejection of both.

The California decision is one of four Democratic primary events scheduled for the month. Rhode Island is expected to give the 10 delegates to Smith. Roosevelt managers claim they will pick up the 10 in South Dakota and 24 in Alabama.

The present scores gives Roosevelt actually about 200 votes. He has actually pledged and is sight around 182. White, 52, Hyde 50, Lewis 48, Reed 24, Murray 22 and Ritchie 16.

To win the nomination under the two-thirds rule requires 770 votes. The power of vote will be in the hands of 350 delegates. Both the Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt groups already appear to be certain of that many.

A victory for Garner in California would naturally increase this power.

Kidnap Victims

Gustav Miller, 22-year-old son of a wealthy Joliet, Ill., merchant, kidnaped from outside the home of his fiancée, Miss Catherine Miscrow, and held for $50,000 ransom. The notorious "42" gang of Chicago is believed involved in the abduction. (International News Photos.)

RANSOM READY FOR KIDNAPS

Joliet, Ill., May 2 (AP)—The kidnaped 22-year-old Gustav Miller has not returned home as yet, although $50,000 ransom was reported ready for his abductors and an intensive private search was being carried on today by his wealthy father.

An unemployed telephone call, traced to the haunts of the notorious "42" gang of Chicago, turned the search in that direction yesterday, but nothing was known of the identity of the caller, as he hung up before a connection was made with the home of the father, Max Miller, a wholesale grocer.

The family's attorney, W. D. Heise, planned to leave for New York today but declined to divulge the ransom's purpose. Nor would he report on any progress he might have had in a hurried trip to Aurora, Ill., Friday, after the elder Miller was informed by telephone where his son's car would be found.

The young man disappeared Thursday night. His father has refused cooperation of the police but it was reported he had sought assistance from Chicago's famous "Secret Six." The police said they would not take part in a search until requested but declared they have learned four men in a automobile bearing Ohio license plates were the abductors.

BABY CRIES GIVES COURT PUZZLE

Whether a baby's cry amounts to "objectionable noise" or "joyous outpouring" is causing considerable stir in an Ottawa court these days. An Ontario Supreme court justice has to decide the question which involves the fate of an orphanage expansion.

Professor A. L. Clark, dean of science at Queen's University, Kingston, wants to prevent the expansion of a home next to his house on the ground that the crying of children will cause loss of sleep and perhaps a nervous breakdown.

Out at St. Mary's Infant Asylum in Dorchester the sisters feel they have a way out of the difficulty.

"Babies only cry when they are afraid, hungry or angry," said one sister. "If they are properly cared for the neighbors have very little trouble. Our children are quiet at night because we handle them right."

So maybe Professor Clark better find out if the infants are as well cared for in the Kingston orphanage as they are in this Boston home.

High Compression has Arrived!

THE NEW IMPROVED JENNEY ETHYL

THE DAY of real high compression motors is here—and with it, comes a new and better Jenney Ethyl!

Regular gasoline can't stand high compression. It breaks down inside the engine, and causes power-waste, overheating, wear and tear on the motor, and harmful knocking.

That's why the automobile industry asked for a better motor fuel—and here it is! A new Ethyl, with a new and higher anti-knock standard! A new motor fuel that will not knock, even in the highest compression motors of 1932!

But you don't need a brand new car to enjoy the benefits of this new gasoline. It makes any car, old or new, run much better. It gives faster pick-up in traffic; more power on hills; keeps your motor quieter, cooler, and more responsive!

Stop at our nearest Service Station, and fill up with the new Jenney Ethyl. If your car has a high compression motor, it needs this new gasoline. If it's an older car, watch the power come back!

BIG OIL THEFT IS PROBED

Long View, Tex., May 2 (AP)—The alleged theft of one million barrels of oil from the gigantic pruned East Texas oil field is being investigated.

Nearly nine months ago overproduction of this new field was credited with unsettling the price structure of the entire industry and Gov. Ross S. Sterling ordered national guardmen to enforce a controlled output.

One of 16 men against whom charges of theft have been filed is E. M. Daniels, a deputy supervisor of the state railroad commission, which supervises proration. Another is Paxton Gray, a former deputy supervisor and a brother-in-law of Fred Upchurch, assistant attorney general. Six of the 16 have not yet been arrested.

The oil was said to have been taken by means of by-passes, a pipe passed around a meter in such a way the entire flow of oil was not recorded.

HARVARD BAR TO TOILERS URGED

The Harvard Crimson in an editorial today advocated barring students who have to depend on "hour own earnings for all their college expenses."

The editorial was induced by an announcement that 27 eastern colleges, including Harvard, had outlawed the "sympathy appeal" by student salariness.

"The myth that any able-bodied man can support himself and at the same time realize the full advantages of a college education must be destroyed, and there is no better way to do it than by refusing admission to men who are compelled to spend so much time and go to such ends to earn money for themselves, that they lose many of the most essential benefits of a college education."

At Harvard the problem is particularly acute, the editorial says, because the house plan dining halls have decreased the number of jobs by 20 per cent, while the "house plan" as a whole has increased students' living expenses.

new fashioned girl

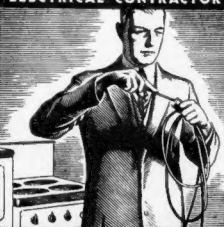

This, ladies and gentlemen, is a picture of a housewife—modern style. Age 34, looks 26. Healthy, lively, full of fun, and capable.

The time is 2 p. m. She's already cleaned house, done a bit of washing, cooked lunch, taken care of two children . . . and now at this early hour, she's ready for bridge, golf, a drive in the country, afternoon tea, or what have you.

Remarkable? Well, yes and no. You see, she's an ALL ELECTRIC housewife. She cleans, washes, and irons electrically. Electricity likewise cooks and refrigerates her food. She believes in doing her work promptly . . . also in saving her time and her strength. She knows that nothing costs less for service rendered than electricity.

Why not let an ALL ELECTRIC home do as much for you? It's easy, with a little planning. You can start now by adding a new home appliance this very month.

WHAT IS AN ALL ELECTRIC HOME?

An ALL ELECTRIC home is one that is adequately wired, and equipped with electric range, water heater, refrigerator, washer, ironer, vacuum cleaner, and such small appliances as the electric toaster, percolator, waffle iron, sandwich toaster, egg cooker, curling iron, hand iron, and heating pad. One by one, you can acquire these appliances. Why not start today to make your home a modern ALL ELECTRIC home?

KNOW YOUR ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR AND DEALER

Your own local electrical dealer is "electrical headquarters" for your neighborhood. He carries a complete stock of standard electrical merchandise and offers you a good variety at standard prices. If he does wiring, his work will be thorough and modern, done by skilled, licensed electricians.

YOU'LL FIND ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT IN YOUR HARDWARE STORE

One of the old reliable American institutions is the local hardware store. People depend upon it for everything from thumb tacks to lawn mowers. It is more than likely, too, that your local hardware store carries electrical equipment, such as washers, vacuum cleaners, and refrigerators.

When you're in the market next for something electrical . . . don't forget your good friend—the hardware dealer.

Continued weakness of United States government bonds, which had influence corporate issues today and the bond market again made more than 5 points.

While trading was somewhat dull, a few of the leading shares, including the oil, put up a fair resistance to the lower trend. Indications, dealers said, that quietness was under way in selected mortgages.

True to Type

IF THE PRESIDENT CHOSE TO RUN IN THE OPEN

By GILBERT SELDES

IT IS RATHER A PITY that for the last two and a half years President Hoover has chosen to remain incommunicado. Or perhaps it is not he, but the American people to whom all communications are denied. I do not think I have missed any of his public utterances and I do not recall a single one addressed as a good king might address "My People," or as Wilson used to address "My Fellow-Citizens."

GILBERT SELDES

It is quite true that Mr. Hoover lacks eloquence, although one would think that departed factories and crowded breadlines would stir any man, even as much as the field of Gettysburg. Yet from the White House no Bixby letter has issued, nothing to touch the emotions of the people, nothing to make them feel that anyone in authority is aware of their misfortunes. The one outburst I do recall was the President's anger over the accusations of the Navy League.

The Faultless One

Conditions do not make free speech between the President and the people at all easy because the President has to keep up an illusion of infallibility, which the people have long ago abandoned. As the President began by reassuring us that everything was really all right, he seemed now to feel that he cannot confess that he and his chosen advisers and the heads of his party were just as wrong as they could possibly be. It is probably because he cannot bring himself to make this confession that everything he does say sounds so irrelevant and ineffective.

Back to Bayonets

His opponents are in a much happier position; they probably made the same mistakes, but they made them less publicly, so that the President is perpetually on the defensive, which is a way of making him more popular. All he needs to do to gain the offensive is to climb out of the pill-box he has himself erected; then he will have to use the bayonet. I am afraid by this time the sharp edge is blunted.

An Imaginary Letter

It would still be magnificent if he made the effort. He would have to say:

"By the time I took the oath of office certain forces were at work which were undermining our prosperity. I did not know enough about them, and when I did find out I was advised that the only way I could stop these forces would be by exposing the truth to all the people. We had lived for so long on the excitement of paper profits that I was afraid. I thought the danger would blow over if we did not make too much of it. My friends and I were as wrong as all the bankers and all the manufacturers and all the bores. They had some right to be wrong. I had none."

Whistling for Good Days

"My knowledge of human beings is not great. When the disaster fell I thought that I might lead a national Whistling-in-the-Dark contest. I thought it would keep up our spirits if I set an official limit of sixty days to the period of depression. I didn't have the heart to say to the people who had elected me because I would impair prosperity, that the kind of prosperity we had was for ten years and that we would have to suffer heroically before we could even begin to re-establish ourselves."

Not Qualified

"After all, my experience had been primarily with financiers and engineers; I was brought up in the era of strong individualism which led to great consolidations of fortune and industry. How could I know that things had changed? I had been an internationalist in all my private dealings; I was elected as a strong nationalist. I had seen and taken part in the great things which free capitalism had accomplished and the only new thing in the world was a communism hostile to the American idea. What on earth could I do?"

One Error Avoided

"I made nearly all the mistakes, but I did not make the mistakes of panic. I tried to save the framework of the house in which we are living, and if I started at the roof instead of at the foundations it was because I thought that rain coming through the roof might ruin the foundations while we were working on them. I did not make the mistake of deserting the house that had stood for one hundred and fifty years in order to build a new one on swampy ground."

No Relief Yet

"I have not been particularly happy; I have resented criticism because I thought it came from people who could have done no better than I had and were attacking me only because they wished to be in my place. I have been profoundly moved by the patience and courage of people whose sufferings I have done so little to diminish. It is a terrible thing for me to come now and say that these sufferings have to continue. But at least we have learned why they have come and we begin to see how they may end. It is not good party politics for me to say it, but whether you elect me or one of my opponents, the next four years are not going to be boom times. If you elect me, you can at least be certain that I know this, as well as you know it."

MILL EMPLOYEES ASK WAGE CUT

Lawrence, May 2 (AP)—A committee of seven employees of the Washington mills of the American Woolen Co. today outlined a request for work at reduced wages.

Ernest A. Johnson, resident manager of the mills, and Mayor William P. White. After the meeting Johnson said he appreciated the attitude of the workers and pointed out that 2800 employees were still being carried on the mill's payroll, although only a few hundred have been working. He had no suggestions to offer the committee.

RADICALS GAIN IN FRENCH VOTE

Paris, May 2 (AP)—A slight but nevertheless definite trend to the Liberal left in yesterday's preliminary election of the Chamber of Deputies was confirmed by the summary of the ministry of the interior today.

This official tabulation showed that 141 deputies had been elected by the first vote. The remaining 25 seats were filled in next Sunday's run-off with the exception of four Colonial seats, which will be decided later in the year. The largest numerical group gaining a definite place yesterday were the Radical-Socialists of the center.

'Prince' Without a Port Due to Do a Lot of Sailing

New York, May 2 (AP)—Michael Romanoff, whose pose as a Russian prince fooled Park ave., Newport and Southampton, today became a man without a country.

Ordered deported by a special board of inquiry, when he arrived a week ago on the Ile de France, a steamship de luxe, he appealed to the commissioner of immigration at Washington.

Today, Edward Corcoran, commissioner of Ellis Island, where Romanoff is held, was notified that the appeal had been rejected, and the pseudo prince was to be deported on the next available boat. According to regulations, he will be put on the next vessel of the French line to leave New York. The steamer De France, sailing on May 10 for France, but France has announced he would not be permitted to land. Immigration authorities claim Romanoff was born in Russia. He contends he was born in the United States. France will exclude him because he has no passport. It is likely he will spend some time cruising and re-cruising the Atlantic as a guest of the French line.

METHODISTS TO REVISE RULES

Atlantic City, N. J., May 2 (AP)—Thirty-eight bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church inaugurated the 31st quadrennial session of the general conference of that church with holy communion in the municipal auditorium today.

A three-weeks program is ahead for the 850 men and women from all sections of the United States and from 40 foreign nations gathered here.

Formation of committees that will consider legislation for the general conference to vote upon will take place today. Already several questions have arisen. Revision of the marriage service, for instance, to eliminate the phrase, "with all my worldly goods I thee endow," has been suggested as many people feel such endorsement is meaningless where brides are more affluent.
